

EU INTERNAL MARKET LAW
with an Introduction to European Union Law

Bibliography (selection)¹

Preliminary remarks

The Treaty of Lisbon, an important reform treaty that entered into force in 2009, brought extensive and far-reaching changes to European Union law. Therefore, many textbooks, commentaries, handbooks and other publications, which can be found in the libraries, are not up to date anymore. It is recommended to use primarily new publications or editions, which have been published since 2010.

European Union law is a multilingual legal system. The most important language is French, since the legal terminology and many basic concepts are based on the French legal tradition. The largest number of publications can be found in French, German and English. However, there are numerous publications on European Union law in all official languages of the European Union. Be aware of the danger to develop a biased understanding of European Union law if you only consult resources in English!

H. Internet sources in the field of European law

There are many internet sources which allow an easy orientation and a quick access to the Law of the European Union. For example, you can find all the founding treaties, all EU legislation and all the jurisprudence of the European Court of Justice in the internet. As well, some introductions to case-solving in the field of European law have been published in the internet. See the links on the special website for this course. Those who understand a little bit German will find detailed references at www.jura.uni-goettingen.de/schmitz (see "Links", "A. Europarecht" and "F. Fälle und Lernmaterialien"). Many subjects of this course are covered by the special websites on the European internal market of the European Commission (http://ec.europa.eu/internal_market/index_en.htm) and of the EU main server "Europa" (http://europa.eu/pol/singl/index_en.htm).

I especially recommend those internet sources which provide the same informations in different European languages (see, for example, the website of EuR-Lex, <http://eur-lex.europa.eu>). It is useful to have a look on different language versions and to learn the most important legal terms in various languages. Most times, it is easy to switch between the different language versions. If possible, the founding treaties should be read in French, Italian or German because the English version has been added later and contains many unprecise and problematic passages which often cause misunderstandings.
